

1. Fill in the gaps:

The supply of one producer is called an _____ supply.

All the goods and services meant for sale are the _____ supply.

The supply of one product by more producers is called _____ supply.

The supply is determined by the _____ and the supply curve is _____.

2. Choose the graph depicting a supply curve:

3. An introduction of a new way of manufacturing helping the producer to produce more causes

- a) the shift of the demand curve to the left
- b) the increase in the price of the goods
- c) the shift of the supply curve to the right
- d) the shift of the supply curve to the left

4. Which of the following factors will not cause a shift of the supply curve?

- a) input price increase
- b) introducing subsidies
- c) decrease in consumer income
- d) expanding the market

5. The equilibrium in the sunflower market has shifted from E_0 to E_1 . What could have caused the shift?

- a) income increase in the population shifting the demand
- b) bad weather changing the supply
- c) good weather changing the supply
- d) tax increase for companies

6. The graphs are showing the supply and demand of exercise books. Which of them is showing the fact that the price of paper has increased?

